

eight months. Those Falun Gong practitioners were persecuted to death solely because they would not give up their practice of Falun Gong.

Yet in Mainland China, the authorities have been vigorously covering up the facts, not allowing family members to pay their last visits to the victims, let alone take pictures or video-recordings, and even cremating the bodies in a rush without notifying the victims' families. They have even gone so far as to fabricate and propagate lies and threaten and illegally detain and beat the victims' family members and people of conscience who wish to investigate the causes of death.

Among the many cases, there has yet to be a single case placed on file for investigation by the Chinese judiciary. All individuals who are directly responsible for the deaths (excluding those who have since died) are still at large. This clearly indicates that, when it comes to cases concerning Falun Gong, the existing public security and judicial departments in Mainland China have failed to demonstrate the ability and the moral courage to exercise the law; they have shown no intention of bringing these criminals to justice.

To date, this persecution is still persisting. As the death cases continue to climb and the persecution continues to escalate, more and more innocent people in Mainland China are facing the threats of torture and death every day.

Based on the aforementioned reasons, the World Organization to Investigate the Persecution of Falun Gong hereby announces the establishment of a special investigation committee<sup>3/4</sup>the Committee to Investigate the Crimes of Killing the Practitioners of Falun Gong<sup>3/4</sup>to locate and to use all possible means to investigate those individuals and those involved departments and work units responsible for the killing of Falun Gong practitioners. This is to protect Falun Gong practitioners' basic right to existence and to uphold justice. We encourage those who have the information to contact and cooperate with the Committee.

Wei Zaixin, male, 63 years old, was a senior engineer at the School of Advanced Technological Studies in Fushun City, Liaoning Province. Because he refused to give up his belief in Falun Dafa, police at Jiangjun Detention Center in Fushun City tortured him in June 2002 to the point of near death, unable to respond to medical treatment. He died on November 15, 2002.

On February 7, 2002, Wei was abducted and beaten by police from the Liangzhan Street Police Station when he went to the home of another practitioner. He was sent to the Wujiabao Forced Re-education Camp's "intensive" class.

In June 2002, Wei Zaixin was sent to the No.2 Detention Center in Shizilou, Jiangjun District by the police at the Jiangjun Police Station in Fushun City to await his sentence. During this time, the police at the detention center instigated criminal inmates to torture him mentally and physically to the point of near death. In July, the Public Security Department sent Wei Zaixin to the city hospital and notified his family members to bring him home. On November 15, Wei Zaixin stopped responding to medical treatment and died.

From the photos taken while Wei was in the hospital, it is clear that Wei was already in a comatose state at the time. Doctors performed force feeding through his nose, intravenous injection, and catheterization to sustain his life. Both of his legs were severely swollen, and there was extensive skin ulceration on both his abdominal area and thighs. People close to the sources said that while Wei was detained at the Wujiabao Forced Re-education Camp, the authorities refused to allow his family to visit him or send him clothing because he held on to his belief.
