Operator: Hello, how are you?

Investigator: Hello! How are you? Could you connect me to the Hepatology Surgery Clinic, Liver Transplant Inpatient Service?

Nurse: Hello! How are you? This is Liver Transplant.

Investigator: Hello! Hello, I would like to ask some questions. We want to come here for a liver transplant. My husband wants to come over, and get transferred to your hospital. Then which doctor should we look for when we transfer to your hospital? Our classmate recommended Wang Xuehao. When does Wang Xuehao come to work?

Nurse: Wang Xuehao is our academician. You certainly need to look for a director to do the transplant, and you can make an appointment with Director Zhang as the specialist at the clinic, and consult him.

Investigator: Which director should I make an appointment with? Let me write that down.

Nurse: We have quite a few directors who can do it here. You have to do your own research to see which director you want to do it for you, so you can make an appointment with that director. Then you can consult him, consult him about this matter, and he will tell you what to do.

Investigator: In general, which director has done more? Can you recommend one for me, okay? Then I'll make an appointment with that director.

Nurse: Each director does a good job, but as for who does more cases, Zhang Feng does, so you can make an appointment with him.

Investigator: Who? What's the name?

Nurse: Zhang Feng.

Investigator: It's Zhang Feng, right? Oh, Zhang Feng, good.

Nurse: Yes.

Investigator: "Feng" as the peak of a mountain?

Nurse: Yes.

Investigator: Oh, good. In that case, On what day of the week is he at the clinic?

Nurse: For that you need to check it by yourself. Here is the inpatient service, we don't know that.

Investigator: Because my husband's situation is pretty urgent, the sooner, the better. In general, according to your normal procedure, usually when we arrive, can you arrange the surgery in half a month or in a week?

Nurse: You have to ask the doctor about that, okay? We don't know anything about that over here, okay? You have to ask that doctor you'll pick. You can make an appointment with him as your specialist at the clinic first, then go to see him, you know?

Investigator: Oh, is that so? You are not sure in the inpatient service. But you might have known of such cases with your patients in the inpatient service, right? Because I am checking each hospital, to find out which one is quicker, then I will go there, you know? Do you have any hospital beds available? Is there any shortage of your beds?

Nurse: Of course, our bed supply is tight, so if you want to get a transplant done, you need to quickly go make an appointment with the director, let him take you in.

Investigator: Oh. I see. You have such a shortage of beds, right?

Nurse: Right.

Investigator: Ah, yes. Thank you. Who else is available besides Dr. Zhang Feng?
Because in case he...

Nurse: Li Xiangcheng, he is pretty good as well.

Investigator: Li Xiangcheng, right? (Nurse: Li Xiangcheng). Yes, Li with Mu and Zi, right?

Nurse: Right, right, right.

Investigator: Okay, Li Xiangcheng. If not Zhang Feng, then Li Xiangcheng, right?

Nurse: Yes, yes.

Investigator: Oh, well. Thank you.

Nurse: No problem.

Investigator: Well, good bye!
