Nurse: Hello. How are you?

Investigator: Hello. How are you? Is this the First Affiliated Hospital, Nanchang University?

Nurse: Ah, yes.

Investigator: I'd like to ask about liver transplantation. That is, my brother-in-law needs a liver transplant. I want to contact a few hospitals to see which one can get it done the fastest. I think he's already got his tissue typing and other tests done. If he goes to your hospital and if he can get a matched liver, how long does it take, and how soon can it be done?

Nurse: You need first get him registered.

Investigator: Please go on. I understand.

Nurse: If you want to get an organ transplant done, you need to go to the 18th floor of the building outside of ours.

Investigator: Oh, do you have their phone number there?

Nurse: There is an organ transplant registration office by the elevator on the 18th floor of that building outside. You need to get him registered on the waiting list there, I mean. If there is a liver source that becomes available, they will call to inform you. You got it?

Investigator: Oh, oh, okay. I'd like to ask, if lucky, how long will it take in the fastest case? How long will it take in the slowest case? Generally speaking?

Nurse: That cannot be answered.

Investigator: There is no issue to (find) a bed, and there must be a bed available for admission, right?

Nurse: Right, there will be a bed available for sure.

Investigator: Oh.

Nurse: First get him registered here now. You need to bring his lab results to the registration place.

Investigator: Okay, I got that.

Nurse: Anyway, for the specifics, just ask the organ transplant registration office.

Investigator: Okay, that's fine.

Nurse: There are dedicated personnel in charge of that area.

Investigator: Well, can you refer a good doctor to me?

Nurse : All our (cases) are done by one doctor, all done by Doctor Shi Jun.

Investigator: Oh, what's the name of that doctor?

Nurse: It is President Shi who does all the surgeries.

Investigator: President Shi?

Nurse: Correct. President Shi can do them well himself.

Investigator: Oh, oh. How many can President Shi do in a year? There is no problem with his techniques?

Nurse: As for those specific details, you need to come for a consultation yourself. Ha, ha. If you ask me, how can I answer you? Okay?

Investigator: Ah, ah, okay. That's fine. Thank you!

Nurse: I am a bit busy. Thank you.

Investigator: Thank you.
