(Originated on June 20, 2004, Modified on October 29, 2005)

1. Biography of Wang Xudong

Wang Xudong was born in January 1946 in Yancheng city, Jiangsu province. He became the deputy secretary of the Chinese Communist Party Committee of Tianjin in May 1993. Later he became the deputy Organization Minister of the Central Committee of CCP, and the Chinese Communist Party fifteenth session of central alternate committee member. He was appointed as the Standing Committee and secretary of CCP of Hebei province. In November 2002, he was appointed as the deputy minister and the party group secretary of the Ministry of Information Industry. On March 17, 2003, he was appointed as the minister and the party group secretary of the Ministry of Information Industry.<sup>i</sup>

2. A reporter named Wang Ying from Hebei Daily on August 30, 2001 wrote the following in a report titled “Province leaders watch the exhibit named anti-cult, promoting civilization”. Province party secretary Wang Xudong, deputy secretary Zhao Shiju, standing committee member and provincial military region commander Chen Yutian, general secretary and standing committee member Zhang Quansheng came to the Museum of Shijiazhuang and watched the large exhibit “anti-cult, promoting civilization” hosted there. The leaders watched the exhibit carefully and listened to the introduction of the staff at the same time. Everybody looked serious while looking at the pictures about how Falun Gong destroys life and disturbs the society. Wang Xudong said that the exhibit is good and it unveiled the anti-society and anti-human nature of Falun Gong using actual examples and educated people. He hopes that the exhibit can be viewed by more people including those transformed Falun Gong practitioners and family members of the victims so that they can further understand the ugly face of the cult and increase the self-consciousness and firmness of the struggle. It is especially important to educate the middle school and elementary school students so that they can establish the thought of anti-cult and promoting civilization at their childhood.<sup>ii</sup>

3. People’s Daily reported on July 19, 2001. It says that under the concern of Wang Xudong, the secretary of CCP of Hebei province, a Falun Gong practitioner and doctorate student Sun Jingmei returned to campus after the “transformation”. A self-sponsored doctorate graduate student Sun Jingmei from Tianjun University of Traditional Chinese Medicine started practicing Falun Gong in May 1998 and got addicted. In March 4, 2000, she went to Jijiang Road neborhood in Hebei district, Tianjin City to attend illegal Falun Gong activity and was caught by the police. She was put in 15 days detention. Because Sun violated the law repeatedly and wouldn’t show regret after education, the college expelled her from school. Sun Jingmei’s husband wrote a letter to Hebei CCP secretary Wang Xudong and asked him to help with Sun’s education. Wang Xudong instructed the relevant departments to help her immediately after receiving the letter. Under the patient help and education from different levels of party organization in Shijiazhuang city and Hebei province, Sun Jingmei regretted and broke up with Falun Gong.<sup>iii</sup>

4. Yanzhou Mining Industry report. Chinese Communist Party Hebei Provincial Party Committee Secretary Wang Xudong said in his speech given at the Hebei Provincial ideological and political working conference, “The major mission of this provincial ideological and political working conference is to study and implement the spirit of the Central CCP’s ideological and political working conference and the spirit of Comrade Jiang

Zemin's important speech, to analyze the situation confronted by our provincial ideological and political work, and assign our provincial ideological and political work in this period of time.... We should also realize that under the influence of various international and domestic factors, the ideological and political battle has never ceased. That some opinions appeared from time to time over the past several years against the Marxism and the socialism indicated this. The emergence of 'Falun Gong' further more indicates the complexity and keenness of the battle in the field of ideology and politics. ... Some people had a crisis in belief and yearn toward the western world. They don't believe that socialism is better than the capitalism. Some people's will became flagging, and vacuum emerged in their mind. Some people even repose their mind in feudalistic superstition. Some people's political consciousness, party character and conception and their dedication have been declined. They even got themselves involved in the 'Falun Gong' cult organization.”<sup>iv</sup>
