Translation

Operator: Hey! Hello!

Investigator: Hi. I called this number just now. You gave me that number, but I was calling it many times and having trouble getting through. So I'd like to ask...

Operator: 28608906.

Investigator: Exactly, 8906. No answer. Oh, it's not like that. Always busy. Because it's busy, today perhaps it's because of the weekend...

Operator: Busy? I'll switch you over...switch you over. Speak no more. I'll switch you over.

Investigator: Okay, fine. That's great.

(The sound of connecting comes on...)

Nurse: Hello! Nephrology Clinic.

Investigator: Hey! Hello! Excuse me, but someone in my family would like to have a kidney transplant at your hospital.

Nurse: Here's my suggestion: you may call 9071 for consultation because the doctor in charge of kidney transplants isn't available. The last digits are 9071.

Investigator: Does your hospital do it every month? Have you done many of them?

Nurse: No, no. Nothing like that. Nothing like that. We haven't done that for months.

Investigator: Oh, you haven't done it for months. Well, how many cases do you do a year?

Nurse: That--50 cases were done last year. It seems like that. This year, it should be over 30.

Investigator: You mean you haven't got kidney sources for months. Is that so?

Nurse: I'm not sure about that. Because those kidney sources aren't what our clinic deals with. There's a small group dedicated to that.

Investigator: Okay. What are the last digits of the phone number you mentioned, the ending ones?

Nurse: 9071.

Investigator: That is: the first digits are 28609071. Correct?

Nurse: Yes, yes. So please call Monday, because I'm not sure if he comes to work tomorrow.

Investigator: Then your...who is your best surgeon, his or her surname?

Nurse: Now we have a dedicated doctor responsible for transplant affairs, who seems to be studying at West China Hospital (of Sichuan University) in Chengdu. So he isn't being so dedicated to that. However, currently our clinic is in charge of kidney sources and transplants. A doctor named Hu Tingting is responsible for that. Will you call her and communicate with her Monday?

Investigator: Then I have to know her name. Hu Tingting?

Nurse: Yes, Hu Tingting.

Investigator: Alright, fine. Hu Tingting. She must be a chief physician. Is she the director?

Nurse: No, she is not. It goes like this. Operating on patients belongs to surgery, urology surgery. So we're only in charge of all pre-opt and post-opt care. And our clinic isn't responsible for the surgery itself.

Investigator: So, if I need to see Hu Tingting, Is she in your Internal Medicine Clinic or dedicated to transplants as a surgeon?

Nurse: Internal Medicine Clinic, Internal Medicine Clinic, Internal Medicine Clinic.

Investigator: So I need to go to the Internal Medicine Clinic to see her. She doesn't do transplants, does she? Is she responsible for that?

Nurse: No, she doesn't do transplants. But she is in charge of everything related to transplants in our clinic.

Investigator: Then, who's the most skilled surgeon in your hospital?

Nurse: The most skilled surgeon?

Investigator: Yes, the most skilled.

Nurse: You...you...but he wouldn't necessarily want to do that (for you).

Investigator: Not necessarily...then I can go to see him and offer to pay more.

Nurse: About that you may talk to Hu Tingting and see what she feels like. Okay? As to that director of Urology Clinic, I cannot guarantee you that. You see?

Investigator: It is not that nobody can guarantee that. I just want to know his surname. Just tell me his surname.

Nurse: Liang.

Investigator: Liang?

Nurse: Liang, exactly.

Investigator: Oh, Liang. And his first name?

Nurse: Liang Guobiao.

Investigator: Liang Guobiao. Alright, I see. Thank you so much! Thanks!

Nurse: That's okay. If you want to know anything, please talk to Hu Tingting. Okay?

Investigator: Alright. Great. Thank you!

Nurse: Fine. Bye!
