Investigator: Hello! Hello there. Ah, is this Kidney Transplant of the First Affiliated Hospital of Xi'an Jiaotong University?

Nurse: Ah, yes.

Investigator: I'd like to have my family member transferred to your hospital for a kidney transplant.

Nurse: You have to come and get assessed first, let the doctor decide whether it can be done, and leave your files with us.

Investigator: Oh, then I would like to ask which doctor I should make an appointment with? The director? To make an appointment with the director, right?

Nurse: Except for Wednesday morning, the clinic is open on Mondays through Fridays!

Investigator: Oh, I'd like to find the director. He has done a lot and has good technical skills, doesn't he? Then on which day should I make an appointment with him? What's his name?

Nurse: An appointment with the director?

Investigator: Ah, because usually in a hospital, the director performs the operations himself, doesn't he?

Nurse: Oh, not necessarily.

Investigator: Not necessarily? Then please recommend someone with better technical skills.

Nurse: All of them are professors.

Investigator: Ah, all of them are professors, so you have a lot of doctors who can do it, right?

Nurse: Yes.

Investigator: Ah, I'd like to ask you, if I come over to have a kidney transplant, usually how long would it take, in a fast case?

Nurse: Bring your money, and come to the outpatient clinic to make an appointment with one of the doctors from Kidney Transplant.

Investigator: Oh, how much money shall I prepare?

Investigator: Hey, wait a minute!

Nurse: Bring your money first!

Investigator: Wait a minute, I will make a call, and I will call today.

Nurse: You just need to make the payment at the outpatient clinic first. Why are you being busy with those things ahead of time?

Investigator: I have been calling for several days. Finally, I got a chance asking the operator, and now I'm asking you if you tell me who your director is. Also there is another question, if I need to prepare money, how much money should I prepare if the operation is done?

Nursing: You can bring 15,000 or 20,000 yuan first, and then let the doctor assess the patient's condition to see whether it can be done, you know?

Investigator: If it can be done, it would cost hundreds of thousands or tens of thousands. I have to prepare the money. Otherwise when it can be done but I don't have enough money.

Nurse: Surgery is a matter for the next step, Surgery is a matter for the next step, alright!

Investigator: Then I want to ask how many cases the hospital can do in a year?

Nurse: Ah, you ask about that, even if there were 4,000 cases performed, but if your tissue typing failed, that would mean nothing for you!

Investigator: Isn't it true that the more cases are done, the better the skills? That is also a matter of life and death!

Nurse: When you go to the clinic, you can ask for more details, okay! I'm very busy now!

Investigator: I'll let you go then. Talk to you later, thank you!
