Investigator: Hello, how are you? Is this Beijing Chao-Yang Hospital? Hi, how are you?

Doctor: This is.

Investigator: Well, one of my family members...

Doctor: Need to get registered. Go to the clinic to make an appointment. When kidneys become available, (someone) will call to notify you. This doesn't have a specific time and no exact time.

Investigator: No exact time? So no one knows on which week it can be done?

Doctor: Right, that's right. Ah, that's uncertain, yeah.

Investigator: As they told me, it can be done in just one week at such hospitals as Chao-Yang (Hospital) or Armed Police (Hospital). You can call them to confirm. So I'm thinking...

Doctor: Yeah, that is relatively fast.

Investigator: One week is pretty fast, right? In just one week, is that possible? Can it be done in one week?

Doctor: Well, I'm not very sure about those details.

Investigator: Oh, you are...

Doctor: You'd better to go to the clinic. You come to make an appointment with the doctor in charge of the transplant team, to consult about those specific details, yeah.

Investigator: What program does the clinic belong to?

Doctor: Ah...the Urology Surgery.

Investigator: Oh, right now, do you still do a lot of kidney transplant cases at Chao-Yang Hospital?

Doctor: Yeah, we mainly do kidney transplants.

Investigator: Oh, as you just said that kidney...So, you mainly do kidney transplants at your hospital, right?
Wow, that...

Doctor: Yes. That's kind of quite a lot when three teams are doing kidney transplants here, yeah.

Investigator: Oh, how many hundred cases have been done this year? Like those kidney transplants?

Doctor: Well, that kind of thing, I can't tell you that.

Investigator: Ah, anyways, you must have done quite a lot!

Doctor: Quite a lot anyway, yeah, that's right, and more and more each year, yeah.

Investigator: As you said, you have many patients waiting in line?

Doctor: Yeah.

Investigator: Oh, good, good, good, then.

Doctor: Oh, all right.

Investigator: Bye, bye.
