Investigator: Oh, I am a doctor from a hospital in Hebei Province. I have a patient who wants to do liver transplantation. I would like to ask, are you still doing it now?

Doctor: We do liver transplants. You can ask your patient to come to our hospital, yes.

Investigator: I would like to get some information before sending him over.

Doctor: This is up to you, and you can go wherever you want to.

Investigator: Uh, yes yes, yes, because we were afraid...we thought it could be done based on his condition, so we contacted Hospitals in Beijing for him, because we don't have liver transplants here.

Doctor: We do a lot here, here in our hospital.

Investigator: You do a lot, uh?

Doctor: Right.

Investigator: What about...when the patient arrives, about how long does he have to wait?

Doctor: It depends on the patient's specific situation, it depends, what blood type, what kind of situation...if it's emergency situation, emergency situation...

Doctor: Yes, if your patient is very critical, that is, emergency situations can be given priority, and if he's a regular case, then he'll just wait for his turn.

Investigator: Are you doing a lot now? Are you doing a lot, either this year, or in previous years, are you doing a lot?

Doctor: We have done a lot. We have done maybe 70 or 80 cases this year. We have done a lot this year.

Investigator: Oh, last year...last year I sent a patient, named Ma Xiao. I contacted Ma Xiao, and how many did you do last year? Did you do more last year than this year?

Doctor: Last year, I, no, this year we sure will do more than last year. Last year, we did 100, maybe a little more than 100. And this year we'll probably exceed...will do close to 150. This year we are still doing it...maybe...

Investigator: Is that right!

Doctor: Yes, we are doing more this year. Yes, last Thursday, yes, we are doing a lot. At the beginning we sometimes did it..., because now the donations are all livers donated by DCD, and that is, when there are more livers donated, it may be done quickly, that's what it means, yes.

Investigator: Well, yes, yes, yes, you mentioned DCD as the liver source. Did you say that the sources of liver are all from Beijing? I mean these donors?

Doctor: From all, all over the country.

Survey: From all over the country, uh? There is this website of the Health and Family Planning Commission. What is the function of that website? Because we don't do liver transplants...what do you think of...?

Doctor: I know, that website is, that website, but, for the time being, that website is not all inclusive. In terms of organs, it's not there, it's not to the point of complete division,

Investigator: Well, is that Liu Zhenwen still doing surgery in your hospital?

Doctor: Yes, Liu Zhenwen is the director of our department, that is, the director of the transplant center, yes.

Investigator: Ah, he, he has done a lot, he is quite famous, oh, he is the one who did the surgery for Fu Biao, right?

Doctor: Yes, yes, I know, yes, um, okay, um, okay.

Investigator: Oh, okay, thank you then, okay, bye bye.
