Yang Zhanyu: Hello?

Investigator: You are Professor Yang Zhanyu with the Department of Hepatobiliary Surgery, Southwest Hospital of the Third Military Medical University, right?

Yang Zhanyu: Yes.

Investigator: Well, I have a relative in Shapingba. He has hepatitis B and cirrhosis and needs liver transplantation. I would like to ask if the Southwest Hospital can arrange for it. Are you doing liver transplantation now?

Yang Zhanyu: I have been transferred to the PLA General Hospital. I am with the No. 301 Hospital, but now I am doing it at Southwest Hospital too. There are very few donors, though. He (the patient) is in Chongqing, isn't he?

Investigator: Yes, in Shapingba.

Yang Zhanyu: In Shapingba, right?

Investigator: Right, right.

Yang Zhanyu: But now there are few donors in Southwest Hospital. They are doing it, but there are very few donors.

Investigator: Ah.

Yang Zhanyu: I know Southwest Hospital. If you want to do it, Qinghua Changgeng Hospital in Beijing is doing more.

Investigator: Ah, at Changeng Hospital...bu you see, if he has liver cirrhosis, he has type B blood and is 45 years old... If he wants to come, you said you can do it, but how long does he have to wait before a surgery can be arranged?

Yang Zhanyu: It may not be necessary to wait for a month. I think, with such a case, it should be possible to do it in three or four weeks.

Investigator: Oh, three or four weeks, that would be great! Then what would you say...

Yang Zhanyu: At Changeng Hospital...at Changeng Hospital, Academician Dong Jiahong and Director Lu Qian, both of whom perform transplantation at Changeng Hospital, also worked in Southwest Hospital.

Investigator: Hey, that should do, okay.

Yang Zhanyu: Yes, yes, you let... yes yes yes.

Investigator: If that's the case, really...who should I contact for this? Can you recommend someone?

Yang Zhanyu: Contact Lu Qian, contact Director Lu, Director Lu Qian.

Investigator: Director Lu Qian.

Yang Zhanyu: Let me send you a message later, let me send you a message.

Investigator: That'll be fine, that'll be fine, but let me ask first, they have more organs?

Yang Zhanyu: Yes, yes, they have more.

Investigator: How many, how many cases can they do a year?

Yang Zhanyu: Now they should be able to do 200 cases a year, they should be.

Investigator: 200 cases, right?

Yang Zhanyu: Right.

Investigator: In Beijing, generally, my impression is that the General Hospital of the Armed Police Force is doing more, right?

Yang Zhanyu: Now the Armed Police Hospital doesn't do it. Now the Armed Police General Hospital is called the PLA General Hospital...it's called the Third Medical Center of the PLA General Hospital. They don't do it anymore.

Investigator: Oh, what about No.307 Hospital? No.307 Hospital is doing it too, right?

Yang Zhanyu: No, it doesn't, it doesn't. Military hospitals...those in Beijing basically stopped doing it during this period.

Investigator: Oh, then why did they stop doing it? Haven't they been able to do it well by now? For such a long time already?

Yang Zhanyu: Mainly because of the donor issue.

Investigator: The donor issue, you say.

Yang Zhanyu: Well, yes.

Investigator: Donations are now...how come there are fewer donors now? Isn't it getting better and better now? You now have more experience, you have become better.
