Translation

Zhihai PENG: Hello?

Investigator: Hey, hello! Are you Zhihai PENG, Director of the Liver Transplantation Department of Xiang'an Hospital Affiliated to Xiamen University?

Zhihai PENG: Uh-huh.

Investigator: I have a relative who has hepatitis B with advanced cirrhosis and needs a liver transplant.

Zhihai PENG: It's okay, just tell him to see me. He can come to see me tomorrow.

Investigator: Ah, that's great. How long is the wait time for surgery if he completes an evaluation and is found to be suitable for transplant?

Zhihai PENG: Wait times are quite short here. Tell him to first join the transplant waiting list, to come here to get on the waiting list. Transplant wait time in my hospital is short. Though I dare not say how short it is, it should be short, it should be. (Tell him to) first get himself admitted to my hospital.

Investigator: Generally speaking,...how long is the wait time?

Zhihai PENG: Well, speaking of a short wait time, a short waiting time, as short as 2 weeks, 3 weeks, 4..., minimally. Fees in my hospital are 50% less than that in Beijing and Shanghai, because we have very few surgical wards. Fees at the best hospitals for surgery are higher...

Investigator: That's true, that's true, that's true.

Zhihai PENG: Tell him to wait patiently, to wait patiently. He will know what to expect once he is admitted to my hospital. There will be evaluation exams, and something in addition, something in addition.

Investigator: So, how long will it take to do the organ matching?

Zhihai PENG: I understand, understand all ... I understand what you asked, and they are not at all complicated. It won't make much difference if you will have surgery one day earlier or later. (Patient) safety is important, isn't it, Ah?

Investigator: Evaluation... How long does organ match testing usually take?

Zhihai PENG: You...you can just tell him to come to see me. It's hard to say, but it won't take long. Just tell him to come to see me, you tell him to come to see me, okay... okay. These days, donor matching can be done quickly or slowly, so, it's hard to tell you how long one must wait.

Investigator: It won't take that long, ah?

Zhihai PENG: No, of course not.
