Doctor: Who are you?

Investigator: Hey, my name is Wang. I am calling from Beijing. I have a relative in Shanghai who needs a liver transplant. I just wanted to ask if you can give them... arrange it for him?

Doctor: What's his name?

Doctor: There's no approximate situation to talk about. To tell you the truth, we receive many various types of telephone calls, and we don't dare to talk about these things casually, you know? I also hope you can understand.

Investigator: That's right, that's right. Okay, just the family members come and meet you at the hospital, right.

Doctor: Right, right, okay? Because it is relatively sensitive in this regard now, people are not willing to talk about this and that. We just meet and go through the normal process, and that way is better for us. You are a stranger and give me call like that, and then I'll tell you everything, this is not very appropriate, okay?

Investigator: Ah, right, right, right.

Doctor: Let the family members come, and I will be able to make an assessment right away!

Investigator: Ah~

Doctor: Based on the severity of the condition, we will make arrangements as soon as possible, okay.

Investigator: So half a month or a month is still possible?

Doctor: Yes, right, right, right. About this, we'll have to look at the patient's check up materials before we can make a decision, okay?

Investigator: Ah, that's great, that is, we hope it can be done sooner, and we don't want any further delay now.

Doctor: Ah, okay.

Investigator: Okay.

Doctor: By the way, where did you get my phone number?

Investigator: Oh, it's...it's...it's a comrade from the Medical Administration who recommended you to me.

Doctor: Which medical administration?

Investigator: It's the Health Commission, the Health Commission, a colleague of the Health Commission recommended you to me.

Doctor: So it's the National Health Commission?

Investigator: Ah yes, the National Health Commission.

Doctor: Ah~ah, okay.

Investigator: Right.

Doctor: Alright, if you want to do it, you'll just...you have him come over. If you are sure that you want to do it, you can ask him to bring...bring the medical file and I will evaluate it for him. If I say it can be done, basically it can be done. If I say it can't be done, you don't have to look for anyone else, and you don't have to look for others in entire China.
