Investigation Recording 8, “The patients come here at night and we do the liver transplantation surgeries overnight.”

Subject of Investigation: Li Gongquan, liver transplantation doctor of the First Affiliated Hospital of Zhengzhou University

Date: March 19, 2015 (Phone number: 8637166862192)

(Recording: MP3)

Li Gongquan: Hello.

Investigator: Hello, Doctor Li, right?

Li Gongquan : Yes, yes, yes.

Investigator: I want to ask you about liver transplantation.

Li Gongquan: Oh.

Investigator: I think you....you can do this, right?

Li Gongquan: Oh, you said where you come from?

Investigator: Oh, from Xinyang.

Li Gongquan: What?

Investigator: I come from Xinyang.

Li Gongquan: Hmm.

Investigator: I want to ask you about liver transplantation. My mother, you know, her liver doesn't work well, and it has become decompensated. I want to know that your hospital can do this, right?

Li Gongquan: Hmm, sure, sure.

Investigator: I want to ask, I mean, for an operation like this, how much will it cost?

Li Gongquan: Cost?

Investigator: Oh, yes.

Li Gongquan: The cost should be... If everything is going well, about 300,000 yuan, more than 300,000 yuan.

Investigator: What do you mean everything is going well, what if not?

Li Gongquan : No, I mean (the cost) will occur when you take medicine in the hospital, during hospitalization.

Investigator: During hospitalization.

Li Gongquan: You should bring the patient here. She should come here first. It's more convenient for us.

Investigator: Now, I mean, I call you today to understand the situation first. One thing is the cost, another is to make sure if you can do the operation immediately when we get there.

Li Gongquan: I think it can be done within one week, if you like, you can do the tissue typing.

Investigator: But my mother's blood type is B.

Li Gongquan: Perfect.

Investigator: Her blood type is B, I made such inquiries before.

Li Gongquan: This afternoon, (I mean) this morning we did (liver transplantation) for one patient. We just finished. There is probably one operation tomorrow.

Investigator: Just like the one you just did (for the patient) today, how long did he wait?

Li Gongquan: Approximately... approximately, it's like when the patient has done all the necessary procedures, we make sure the operation can be done. If the patient's liver is still functioning a little bit, and a donor liver is found, and it's right for the patient, we will call the patient to come here immediately. In some cases, the patients come here at night and we do the liver transplantation surgeries overnight.
